

Interview with Brad Gilbert - Part 1

Q:If you have a player and you feel they need to work on approaching and coming to the net more, how do you get that message across? How do you sell the player on that?

A: To see a VIDEO answer (part 1) to this question click here. To see a VIDEO answer (part 2) to this question click here. These videos will open in Windows Media Player.

Q:Do you think it's possible for a player to play on instinct or do you have to have some sort of strategic plan?

A: To see a VIDEO answer (part 1) to this question click here. To see a VIDEO answer (part 2) to this question click here. These videos will open in Windows Media Player.

Q:How did you handle the weather delays at Wimbledon this year?

A: To see a VIDEO answer (part 1) to this question click here. To see a VIDEO answer (part 2) to this question click here. These videos will open in Windows Media Player.

Q:Lets say your with Agassi and he's played Becker already 9 or 10 times and its another semi-final somewhere; do you just make sure that your players feeling good or do you still bother to go into some tactical details or is it all about letting him feel good and do what he has to do?

A: To see a VIDEO answer (part 1) to this question click here. To see a VIDEO answer (part 2) to this question click here. These videos will open in Windows Media Player.

Q:Have you had it happen that you scout a player the day before and it looks like on break point that he's going to the backhand and then the following day he's doing the opposite?

A: To see a VIDEO answer (part 1) to this question click here. To see a VIDEO answer (part 2) to this question click here. To see a VIDEO answer (part 3) to this question click here. These videos will open in Windows Media Player.